(54) Title: METHOD FOR SETTING SUBSTITUTE RINGBACK TONE OF CALLING PARTY IN MOBILE COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM

(57) Abstract: Method for setting substitute ringback tone of calling party to be identical with that of called party. A substitute ringback tone playing server 30 in the system checks whether there is a certain key input or key input stream from the calling party requesting of bringing substitute ringback tone of the called party. Responding to the request, a bringing server 70 sets the substitute ringback tone code of the calling party stored in a playing control server 40 as that of the called party. A user interface server 50 allows a user to select a substitute ringback tone among multiple tones stored in a database 62 to give to another person as a present.
